

Health examination preliminary information form for the parents of a 4-year-old child

In addition to monitoring the child's development and growth, the child health clinic is tasked with promoting the wellbeing of parents and custodians as well as supporting upbringing work and a safe growing environment. The wellbeing and way of life of the parents and the whole family have an impact on the child's everyday life. As a result, the child health clinic also asks about factors related to the wellbeing of the parents and discusses the family's overall situation.

We hope you will fill out this form and take it with you to the child health clinic appointment. When the child is living in two homes, a separate form can be filled out in both of them. We will discuss the topics on the form during the health examination. Your answers will help direct the examination to the needs and wishes of your family.

Filling out the form and answering each individual question is voluntary. The information you provide is confidential and subject to health care confidentiality provisions. The health examination will be documented in patient records, after which this form will be disposed of. The documents of the child health clinic are part of the patient register of the wellbeing services county.

Everyday life
How is the everyday life of your family going? What kind of things do you do with your child?
What things in your child make you happy?
Has the daily life of the child or family changed in some way during the past six months?
Is there something in your child's behavior that you think about or that you need support for?
Do you have any concerns about the child's growth and development?
How do you feel about parenthood with the child's other parent (if the child has two parents)?
Survey of parent's mood
A parent's mood can change and the changes may affect the child's wellbeing. The child health clinic does a survey of the parent's mood.
How do you experience your mood? Is there something you'd like to discuss during the appointment?
Parent's relationship/partnership
The child health clinic intends to support parenthood in taking good care of the child and in taking care of the couple's relationship. The parent's relationship/partnership has an impact on the parent's resources, which is why the child health clinic also asks about the status of the parent's close relationships.
